LAND of DREAMS
LOS ANGELES COUNTY
Joellen Wheeler’s long-time clients were overwhelmed by their private foundation. Although they felt wonderful making gifts, the time and expense spent on operational tasks prevented them from doing other things they loved. Her clients sought a way to continue making an impact without the obligation of handling administrative tasks and regulatory requirements. That’s when Wheeler recommended the California Community Foundation. By terminating their private foundation and transferring the assets into a Donor Advised Fund, her clients offloaded the operational responsibilities to CCF while keeping the ability to make gifts and retaining Wheeler to manage the fund’s investments through CCF’s Charitable Asset Management Program (ChAMP).

CCF works closely with a wide range of professional advisors, including financial advisors, accountants, business managers, family offices and attorneys. We specialize in creating a full spectrum of customized solutions, from handling complex assets, to integrating family members into charitable giving models and helping clients maximize the tax benefits of their financial contributions. To CPA Dede Robbins, it’s this combination of expertise and service that makes CCF a valuable partner. “There are so many layers to a philanthropic decision—from the immediate tax implications to the client’s legacy in perpetuity,” Robbins said. “CCF’s deep understanding of the issues and options surrounding charitable giving allows them to create a plan tailored to a client’s specific needs.”

To Joellen Wheeler’s clients, these qualities made all the difference. “CCF worked with me to provide a simple and effective philanthropic solution,” Wheeler said. No longer burdened by administrative hassles, her clients are free to focus on realizing their vision for a better world.

MESSAGE FROM THE CFO

California Community Foundation’s financial position is robust. As of June 30, 2014, our total assets exceeded $1.4 billion. Contributions during the fiscal year ended June 30, 2014 were in excess of $126 million. For that same year, investment activity added just under $173 million to assets. Most importantly, we granted more than $162 million in much-needed support to nonprofits in Los Angeles County and beyond.

All of this is a team effort. Our generous donors, dedicated volunteers and professional partners contribute financial resources, time and skills as part of a complete fiscal management program. CCF works directly with donors and through legal and financial advisors to establish new funds and facilitate contributions. Our board and other volunteers meet regularly to oversee and monitor financial activities. Finally, our banking and investment management partners are experienced and professional.

One important aspect of our financial management is board oversight. Three separate board committees focus on financial activities. Our Budget and Development Committee ensures that we maintain efficient operations and keeps an eye on long-term financial health. Our Investment Committee continually monitors capital markets, investment policies, asset allocation and outside investment managers. Lastly, our Audit Committee verifies that we report our financial activities accurately and in a timely manner.

We’re grateful to all the individuals and groups referenced above. In particular, we’re grateful to our donors for entrusting us with their charitable dollars. We encourage you to contact us with any questions or comments about our financial activities.

Steven J. Cobb
CFO
CCF’s total assets as of June 30, 2014 were $1.42 billion, an all-time high

Strong fundraising and investments led to a $109 million increase in assets from June 30, 2013. Our asset portfolio is divided into four categories that reflect the many types of partnerships between CCF and our donors: Permanent Discretionary Funds, Donor Advised Funds, Permanent Restricted Funds and Other Funds.

Permanent Discretionary Funds are permanent gifts entrusted to CCF by individuals, families and organizations who understand the flexibility offered by unrestricted gifts. They allow CCF to adapt grantmaking to the evolving needs of Los Angeles for generations to come. These assets represent $546 million, or 38 percent of our total assets.

Donor Advised Funds are donor-directed charitable funds or foundations started by donors who choose CCF to help them realize their philanthropic visions and goals. These funds accounted for $499 million, or 35 percent of our total assets.

Permanent Restricted Funds are donor-designated funds for use at a specific organization through a legacy or a bequest. These assets made up $126 million, or nine percent of our total assets.

Other Funds, which include private foundation alternatives, regional affiliates, trusts, community benefit funds and charitable gift annuities, among others, constituted $253 million, or 18 percent of our total assets.

This fiscal year, CCF received $126 million in charitable contributions, reflecting the committed generosity of our donors and foundation partners. Donors and their advisors helped us to reach more than $88 million in Donor Advised Fund contributions and increase Permanent Discretionary Fund contributions by 18 percent over the last fiscal year.

CCF made nearly 7,000 grants totaling $162 million this year, thanks to increases in both Permanent Discretionary and Donor Advised grants. Nonprofits in Los Angeles County received $100 million, or 62 percent of total grants.
As chair of the Audit Committee of California Community Foundation’s Board of Directors, I am honored to support an organization that adheres to the highest standards of transparency and financial management. Through regular meetings with CCF leadership and finance staff, the Audit Committee seeks to ensure rigorous fiscal controls and stringent administrative and governance standards, helping CCF to meet its responsibilities to donors and the community. I am pleased to present CCF’s financial statements for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2014. We worked closely with our professional independent auditors at KPMG LLP to provide an accurate representation of CCF’s organizational health and stability.

Focus on risk management
MESSAGE FROM THE INVESTMENT COMMITTEE CHAIR

Equity prices have continued to ratchet up in spite of only moderate improvement in fundamentals, leading to higher and higher valuations. Global macroeconomic and political events that would normally set markets back have been largely ignored as volatility has remained at nearly unprecedented low levels. In this environment, the focus of the Investment Committee continues to be on risk management. We are avoiding pockets of over-valuation while ensuring that our portfolio construction properly takes into account the risks associated with the removal of monetary stimulus.

The Investment Committee is pleased to report our returns for the fiscal year ended June 30, 2014. We rebalance the portfolio actively to capture relative value, carefully control costs and maintain a high level of diversification—all important elements in achieving our goal of excellent risk-adjusted returns for the long term.

Preston L.C. Johnson
Investment Committee Chair and Board Member

Five investment pools to meet the needs of our donors
INVESTMENT POOLS AND STRATEGY

Long-term fiscal stewardship of donor funds and legacies is our highest priority at California Community Foundation. Under the leadership of our Investment Committee, we have created five investment pools (detailed at right), each following sound economic principles and designed to meet the needs and timeline of our donors, whether they seek short-term grantmaking or to create a permanent endowment.

We also offer greater levels of flexibility and customization through the Charitable Asset Management Program (ChAMP), which allows donors whose funds meet certain criteria to recommend a registered investment advisor to manage the assets of their Donor Advised Fund.

CCF is the permanent foundation for Los Angeles County, and our investments are determined by the desire to meet the needs of our donors while serving the needs of Los Angeles County in perpetuity. Through prudent investment strategies and efficient management, we have created a diverse portfolio that can survive a fluctuating market. We are grateful to have achieved that goal again this fiscal year.

Diversified by industry sector and issuers
ENDOWMENT POOL ALLOCATION

CCF’s Endowment Pool is invested over an indefinite time horizon, which allows it to take on a reasonable level of short-term volatility in order to achieve favorable long-term investment returns. The asset allocation for the pool comprises equity and fixed income funds. Its equity fund portfolio seeks diversification through investments in U.S. equities, non-U.S. equities, alternative investments and other “opportunistic” investments. The fixed income portfolio is diversified with respect to both industry sectors and issuers to minimize risk exposure.
